TUTORIAL SATURDAYS

Commencing at the end of March, Kate Downie is about to launch the first of her eight studio tutorials sessions. Instead of the popular studio-based Tuesday School of Art (TSA), which she taught from 2001-2010, Kate will make her studio and time available to individual artists or students wishing to receive one to one tutorials/tuition.

For many early-career artists, having a supportive 'outside eye' on one's work with advice sessions on professional, technical & creative aspects of art making is very helpful. Tutorial sessions will be entirely confidential and up to 2 hours duration.

£60 per tutorial

Spring Saturdays: 31st March
28th April

Summer Saturdays: 9th June
11th August

Autumn Saturdays: 29th September
27th October

Winter Saturdays: 17th November
1st December

STUDIO SUNDAYS

A major solo exhibition and publication of new work inspired by her Beijing residency in 2011 will be opening in August 2013 at the Royal Scottish Academy. Kate will not be exhibiting her new ink paintings publicly in Scotland until that date. However, a work-in-progress view will be possible before then in the form of four Studio Sundays in 2012. Visitors to the studio will also get a chance to enjoy, revisit or purchase selected archive works. Wine & Coffee will be served. Each open studio Sunday will feature a different genre of past work as well as showing a sneak preview Kate's current studio practice.

Free admission with advance booking only as numbers will be limited
